To Whom it may concern

Ref: STEVE BEHREND'S

Within the last week, we have completed the remodeling of our 450 sq. ft. lanai into a sunroom. The job was completed on time and with a high standard of workmanship, thanks to the supervision of Mr. Steve Behrends.

We had presented our remodeling ideas to five contractors. The job was awarded to "The Building Company" even though they were considerably higher than the others, because of Mr. Behrends. Mr. Behrends listened to our ideas and because of his knowledge of construction, we were able to work out with him exactly what could be done and how it would be accomplished. Steve comes across well with a customer and his knowledge is obvious. We felt comfortable hiring "The Building Company" even at a much higher price. We were Right! He was on the job daily, scheduled his people and the Subs in a timely manner, and when problems arose, he solved them and kept the job moving. Steve has high standards and will not compromise on quality.

Having been connected with the construction business for many years, starting as an engineer for Turner Construction Co. on the U.N. Building in New York, Mechanical Committee of the Michigan Construction Code Commission, and currently a Building & Repair Specialist for the American Red Cross working with building contractors all over this country to repair disaster damage, I feel I am in a much better position to judge Mr. Behrends than most people.

In our opinion, Mr. Steve Behrends has the aptitude, skills, knowledge and personality to make an excellent quality minded general contractor.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Underhill
